The Growth Operating System for Brands, Businesses & the Next Generation of Ecosystems.

The Problems Brands Face Today

Legacy-Based Influencer Picks

Brands choose influencers based on face value or past fame — not data, not fit, not results.

Wasted Time & Wasted Money

Overpaying a single influencer. Chasing emails. Broken pay structures. Hours lost with nothing to show.

No Guarantee of Results

The content goes live — and nobody knows if viewers will care, convert, or even watch.

Wrong Audience, Zero ROI

The campaign never reaches the right customers. Desired outcomes remain out of reach. Budget: gone.

What Gyms, Restaurants & Small Businesses Lose Daily

"How will people know about me? How can I make them come? How can I just give them a trial?"

Every single day, thousands of incredible local businesses — gyms, restaurants, salons, studios — open their doors to near-empty rooms. Not because their product is bad. Because nobody knows they exist.

They don't have a marketing team. They don't have an agency budget. They have a great offering and zero reach. That gap is costing them everything.

- ❑ The problem isn't quality. It's visibility — and visibility has never been harder to earn alone.

The Startup & Scale-Up Dilemma

Greatest Website

Pixel-perfect design. Flawless UX. Built with love and months of iteration.

Greatest Idea

A product that genuinely solves a real problem. Founders who believe in it completely.

Greatest Brand

A story worth telling. A mission worth following. A team ready to execute.

But how do you make people know you exist?

The best product in the world means nothing without the right eyes on it. Discovery is the final — and most brutal — frontier for every startup and scale-up.

What Will Happen if Scaler Opens Today?

Assume Scaler has built it all:

1 Great Infrastructure

World-class learning platform, seamless tech, and a campus-grade experience — all ready.

2 Best Teachers

Industry veterans, IIT alumni, top engineers — the finest faculty money can attract.

3 Placement Cell

Partnerships with top companies. A track record of placements. Everything a student dreams of.

❏ What does it need next? The infrastructure is ready. The product is exceptional. But without growth — without reach — even Scaler stays empty on Day 1.

How Ginger Works

Ginger operates in five seamless steps:

Create Your Campaign

Set your vision. Define what you want to achieve — reach, conversions, brand awareness, or community growth.

Set Your Terms

Establish your budget, timeline, content requirements, and success metrics. Complete control, complete clarity.

Find Creators Instantly

No cold emails. No chasing. Filter by followers, cost, reach, location, availability — all in a single click. Ginger's algorithm matches you with creators who fit perfectly.

Let the World See

Open your campaign to the creator community. Creators discover opportunities that match their skills and interests. Organic, transparent, efficient.

Skill-Based Earning

"If you have that talent, show it and earn from it." Creators build their reputation. Brands find authentic voices. Everyone wins.

That's it. No friction. No waste. Just growth.

Choose Your Platform. Own Your Growth.

Ginger gives you complete freedom to choose where your message lives.

Instagram • Facebook • YouTube • TikTok • Twitch • Snapchat • Telegram • Reddit • Pinterest • Quora • LinkedIn • Twitter • Discord — and more.

YouTube

Why it matters:

Every product needs a different stage. Every audience lives on a different platform.

Promoting a book? YouTube might miss your readers. Quora is where they're asking questions and hungry for answers.

Selling medicines? Reddit and Twitter connect you with informed audiences. Get the right creators writing about you — so you rank first on Google.

Built a gaming app? Discord is where your players live. YouTube tutorials won't convert if your community isn't there.

Ginger doesn't force you into one channel. It lets you match your product to the platform where your ideal customer actually spends their time — and finds the creators who own that space.

One system. Infinite platforms.

Your choice.

The Real Magic: A 5-Star Hotel Example

A new 5-star hotel sits just outside the city. Visitors don't know it exists, and the owner doesn't want to pay influencers upfront.

Here's what they do instead:

1. Create the Campaign

"Come visit my hotel. Shoot a video. Get 50% off whatever you eat."

2. Set Terms on Ginger

- Visit the hotel
- Shoot content
- Post the link
- Pay in-app for what you consumed

3. Creators Join — No Cold Calls

Creators see the opportunity, show up, create, and get rewarded. No begging. No rejection.

4. Reward Performance

- 1,000 views → 50% meal discount
- 10,000 views → Full meal refund
- 100,000 views → Cash bonus
- 1 million views → Significant reward

No upfront payments. Real performance. Everyone wins.

The Old Way vs. The Ginger Way

Traditional Influencer Marketing (Broken)

- Hotel owner calls influencers
- Negotiates rates for weeks
- Begs for coverage
- Waits and hopes
- Gets rejected or mediocre results
- Pays thousands upfront
- No guarantee of ROI
- Everyone's frustrated

Ginger's Approach (Frictionless)

- Create campaign in minutes
- Set your own terms
- Creators discover you
- No cold calls, no begging
- Pay only for real results
- Performance-based rewards
- Transparent, fair, efficient
- Everyone wins

The difference? One system removes all friction. The other creates it.

Brand Recall Through Repetition: The Colgate Effect

Why do we say "Colgate" instead of "toothpaste"?

Why do we ask for "Kurkure" instead of "snacks"?

Why do we reach for "Surf" instead of "detergent"?

Because we see their ads every 10 seconds — on our feed, on TV, everywhere. Repetition creates recall. Recall creates preference. Preference creates loyalty.

The Problem with Traditional Celebrity Endorsements:

You pay one A-list actor millions. You hope it goes viral. You pray people remember you. You have no control over reach. You have no guarantee of results.

The Ginger Way: Distributed Virality

You're a YouTuber with a dying channel. You're a celebrity wanting to scale your presence. You're an actor needing the world to know your name.

Here's what you do:

Create Your Campaign on Ginger:

- "Make a 1-minute video about me"
- "Include this slogan: 'Salman Khan is the Big Boss'"
- "Post it on your platform"
- "Let them get paid based on views"

Instead of paying ONE influencer and hoping:

You're paying ANYONE who can deliver views and mass reach.

The Result:

Your slogan. Your face. Your message. Repeated across hundreds of creators. Thousands of videos. Millions of impressions.

People see it once. They see it again. They see it a third time. By the tenth time, it's stuck in their head.

That's not marketing. That's brand architecture. That's how
Colgate became a verb.

And now, with Ginger, any brand — any celebrity, any creator, any business — can build that same unstoppable recall.

One campaign. Infinite creators.
Unstoppable reach.

Unforgettable brand.

Precision Targeting: The Ginger Way

The Problem with Generic Platforms

Samsung doesn't need random creators.
Scaler doesn't need travel bloggers.
Your business doesn't need just anyone.

You need precision. You need relevance. You need control.

What Instagram Gives You:

- No filters
- No field-specific targeting
- No rate transparency
- No bulk outreach capability
- Manual agency hunting
- Weeks of back-and-forth emails
- No guarantee of fit

What Ginger Gives You:

Search from a curated marketplace of creators filtered by:

Specific Field (Education, Gaming, Travel, Tech, Fashion, Health, etc.)

Reputation Score (Verified, trusted creators in their niche)

Follower Count (Exact range you need)

Engagement Rate (Real impact, not vanity metrics)

Cost Per Post (Your budget, your terms)

Availability (When you need them)

Then:

Send bulk offers to hundreds of qualified creators at once. No agencies. No gatekeepers. No waiting.

They see your offer. They accept or decline. You move forward with creators who actually fit your needs.

IN A NUTSHELL

Fairness, Transparency & Equal Opportunity

The Problem: Information Asymmetry

Creator A has 10K followers. Asks ₹1,000 per post. Low reach.

Creator B has 10K followers. Asks ₹300 per post. High reach.

Who's right? Nobody knows. No market price. No transparency. No fairness.

Brands waste energy. Agencies gatekeep. Creators guess.

The Ginger Solution: Transparent Marketplace for Creators

- A beginner with zero followers can start earning today. No waiting for YouTube monetization. No gatekeeping.
- A meme page with viral content can finally get paid for their skill — not their follower count.
- A creator tired of begging agencies for collaborations can show their work directly.
- A creator with a million followers from a decade ago isn't forced to ask for thousands. Market decides their real value.

For Brands:

See real engagement rates, not vanity metrics.

Pay based on actual reach and impact.

Access creators at every level — from emerging talent to established voices.

Ginger brings fairness. Ginger brings equality. Ginger brings opportunity.

A skilled person gets paid for their skill. A creative person gets discovered for their creativity. A hardworking creator gets rewarded for their work — not their follower count or agency connections.

For Creators: Equality, Fairness & Immediate Earning. No More Ghosting. No More Half Payments.

Every creator gets paid based on real work and real results. No brand can disappear after you deliver. No negotiation games. No broken promises.

Earn From Day 1

You don't need 100K followers. You don't need YouTube monetization. You don't need agency representation.

Post a story. Make a video. Spread the word. Get paid.

Location-Based Opportunities

See campaigns happening near you. See what people in your city need promoted. See what's worth your time.

Real-World Examples:

A ₹10 Crore Bungalow Owner Needs to Sell

Instead of giving 20% commission to contractors (₹2 crore), he posts on Ginger:

- "Make a video of my property. Get ₹1,000 per post."
- "Get 10K views? Get ₹5,000."

Thousands of people see it. The property sells faster. At a fraction of the cost.

A ₹2 Lakh Laptop Needs to Sell

Instead of posting on OLX and facing scammers, he posts on Ginger:

- "Make a story. Make a post. Get ₹1,000."

Creators spread the word. The laptop sells faster. At the right price. No middlemen. No commission theft.

The Result:

Sellers get massive reach without losing 20% to gatekeepers.

Creators earn without waiting for follower milestones.

Everyone wins. Everyone gets paid fairly. Everyone moves faster.

That's not just a marketplace.
That's economic freedom.
